MASTER PLAN FOR AGING

MASTER PLAN FOR AGING: BACKGROUND

Governor Gavin Newsom Calls for Creation of a Master Plan for Aging

Executive Order N-14-19, June 2019

Governor's Executive Order calls for the Secretary of the Health and Human Services (HHS) Agency to convene a cabinet-level Workgroup for Aging to advise the Secretary in developing and issuing the Master Plan.

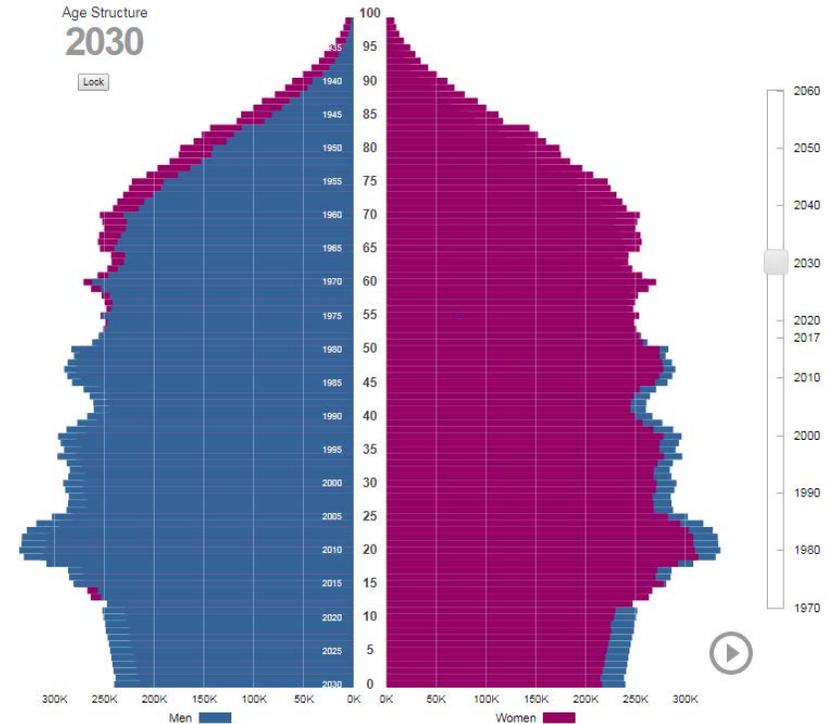

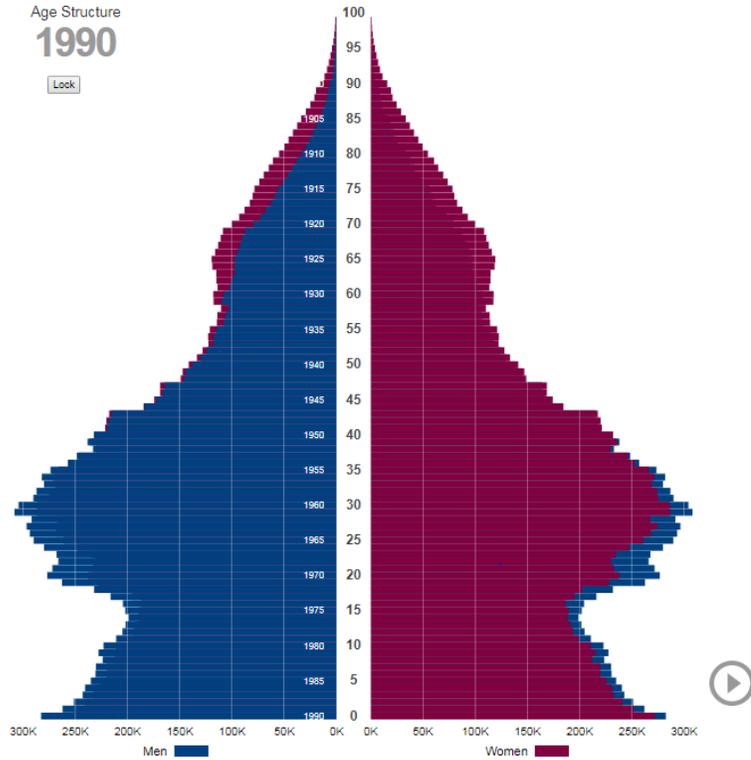

The order also directs HHS to convene a Master Plan for Aging Stakeholder Advisory Committee, which will include a Research Subcommittee and a Long-Term Care Subcommittee with an interest in building an age-friendly California.

AGING IS CHANGING

- More diversity
- More living alone
- More at risk of poverty
- More awareness of the stages of aging

MASTER PLAN FOR AGING: VISION & VALUES

Vision

California for all across the life span

Values

- Choices – access, quality, and autonomy
- Equity – eliminating health and social disparities due to age, disability, geography, income, race, ethnicity, immigration status, language, religion/faith, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, and family status
- Dignity and disruption of age-bias, able-ism, and discrimination
- Inclusion and accessibility for all older adults and people with disabilities
- Innovation and evidence-informed practice
- Partnerships among local, state, and federal governments, philanthropy, and private sectors

MASTER PLAN FOR AGING

MASTER PLAN FOR AGING: GOALS

Goal 1: Services & Supports. We will live where we choose as we age and have the help we and our families need to do so.

Goal 2: Livable Communities & Purpose. We will live in and be engaged in communities that are age-friendly, dementia-friendly, and disability-friendly.

Goal 3: Health & Well-being. We will live in communities and have access to services and care that optimize health and quality of life.

Goal 4: Economic Security and Safety. We will have economic security and be safe from abuse, neglect, exploitation, and natural disasters and emergencies throughout our lives.

Bakersfield Legislative Roundtable on Workforce Issues

On September 20, 2019, Secretary Ghaly and Senator Hurtado (D-Sanger) convened a roundtable discussion with local business, labor and community leaders on the topics of older adult employment and workforce issues at the Greater Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce.

The roundtable kicked off Employ Older Workers Week, which occurs annually during the last week of September. The week celebrates the skills and contributions that older workers bring to the workforce, and encourages employers to hire these workers.

OLDER WORKERS IN THE WORKPLACE

- The number of Americans 50+ who are working or looking for work has grown significantly over the past decade and is expected to continue increasing
- 35% of U.S. labor force participants will be 50+ in 2022. This compares to just 25% in 2002
- The 50+ segment of the workforce continues to be the most engaged age cohort across all generations. Other advantages of workers ages 50+ include their experience, professionalism, work ethic, lower turnover, and knowledge

In Focus: LA County's Title V - Senior Community Service Employment Program

The Los Angeles County, Workforce Development, Aging and Community Services (WDACS) moved the Title V-SCSEP into the Los Angeles County America's Job Centers of California, to be operated directly by the subrecipient service providers.

The changes in the administrative structure aims to provide job training through part time, subsidized assignments at community service agencies and to assist with job training as a bridge toward unsubsidized employment thru the AJCCs has proven to strengthen collaboration and partnerships with SCSEP participants. It has also confirmed the departments commitment to older adults in the workforce.

Future of Work Commission

The overarching goal of the Future of Work Commission is to develop a new social compact for California workers, based on an expansive vision for economic equity that takes work and jobs as the starting point. The Commission's primary mission is to study, understand, analyze and make recommendations regarding:

- The kinds of jobs Californians could have in the decades to come.
- The impact of technology on work, workers, employers, jobs and society.
- Methods of promoting better job quality, wages and working conditions through technology.
- Modernizing worker safety net protections.
- The best way to preserve good jobs, ready the workforce for jobs of the future through lifelong learning, and ensure prosperity for all.

Success Stories

- Mr. Chen (69) a new immigrant with limited skills and English proficiency and end up was hired as an expeditor at an SFO restaurant earning $18/ hour.
- Ms. Thai (58) After graduating from the Home Health Aide training, she was promoted to earning $20/ hour.

Challenges

- ❖ Age discrimination in the workplace appears to be growing. We must be vigilant in advocating to end ageism and discrimination against older people and workers.
- ❖ Local city colleges and community colleges have decreased their support and funding for older worker's classes and workforce training, adversely impacting older workers' access to such support.

Summary

- This model is replicable, scalable and sustainable. Self-Help's Model is over 50+ years old!
- Seek out partners such as SF OEWD, SF HSA / DAS, US Department of Labor, US ACL, CDE, and so on, for funding older workers programs.
- Committed to providing ongoing support for older workers so they can stay in their jobs.
- Seek subsidized training, refresher courses, technology training and English language training for older workers.

Different types of discrimination described in public comments and recommendations included:

- Ageism
- Stigma against persons with disabilities

Reflections: Breaking Stereotypes

- Older Adults:

- Common Myths: More likely to be burned-out, absent due to illness, poor at working with younger supervisors and reluctant to travel.
- Reality: According to a 2009 report from the Sloan Center on Aging & Work, hiring managers gave older employees high marks for loyalty, reliability and productivity.

STAKEHOLDER ADVISORY
COMMITTEE MEMBER

Reflections: Breaking Stereotypes

- Older Adults:

- Common Myths: Older adults are less motivated, generally less willing to participate in training and career development, more resistant and less willing to change, less trusting, less healthy, and more vulnerable to work-family imbalance.
- Reality: 5 out of 6 of those myths have no empirical evidence. In a 2012 study, older workers were less willing to participate in training and career development activities this could be due to several reasons.

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Reflections: Breaking Stereotypes

- Persons with Disabilities:

- Common Myths: Managers can't expect the same level of performance from employees with disabilities.
- Reality: According to the EEOC, "an employee with a disability must meet the same production standards, whether quantitative or qualitative, as an employee without a disability in the same job. Lowering or changing a production standard because an employee cannot meet it due to a disability is not considered a reasonable accommodation. An employer should evaluate the job performance of an employee with a disability the same way it evaluates any other employee's performance."

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Reflections: Breaking Stereotypes

- Persons with Disabilities:

- Common Myths: People with disabilities are not qualified applicants; reasonable accommodations are expensive.
- Reality: According to the Society of Human Resource Management, there are many qualified candidates with disabilities. Employers should not assume that people with disabilities lack the necessary education, training and experience for employment, and would not be able to perform essential job functions. Many employees with disabilities require nothing more than the same consideration an employer may already be providing to its nondisabled employees, such as flexible work schedules, telecommuting or restructured workstations.

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Recommendations

- Create executive order and/or legislation mandating hiring of older adults and persons with disabilities not only in state government, but also in local governments and private companies.
- Create more incentives for employers to offer employment for older adults and persons with disabilities
- Create a statewide database of "pledged employers" dedicated to hiring older adults and persons with disabilities on finding meaningful employment

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Recommendations

- Replicate best practices, such as:
 - Employment Training and Economic Development for older adults in San Francisco (Self-Help for the Elderly)
 - Integrated Employment Supports to People with Disabilities in Alameda (East Bay Innovations)
- Consider supportive work opportunities for formerly incarcerated older adults entering the workforce

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Recommendations

- Create a statewide campaign on debunking aging or disability as a liability; start thinking of it as an asset
- Employers should create and promote flexible work schedules and work arrangements (e.g., telecommuting) for employees
